In the Spring, farmers prepare their fields for planting.

Circle what is needed for growing corn and soybeans.

© 2019 Imprint Publishing and Communique, Inc., Jefferson City, MO
In the Fall, soybeans and corn are ready for harvest.

Where do Suzie Soybean and Bob the Cob go?

Point to the items on these two pages that are made from soybeans and corn.
By Summer, corn and soybeans grow taller.

Farmers watch over their crops and soil all summer to make sure the crops grow and the soil is healthy.
Soybeans and corn from North Dakota are shipped around the world.

For more information, visit our websites: ndsoybean.org ndcorn.org

Corn and soybean farmers produce good, healthy food for you and things you use at home every day. Thanks, farmers!